Full job description

Your new company

A unique opportunity exists to join a reputable boutique planning consultancy organisation based in Sydney CBD. With centrally located offices, a strong client base, as well as various ongoing exciting projects, they are looking to add a talented Senior Environmental Planner to the consistently expanding knowledgeable team currently in place.

Your new role

As a Land Use Environmental planner within the organisation, you will have the opportunity to get involved in a range of key environmental projects in their initial phases alongside a progressive pipeline of future works. Tasks will include but not be limited to:

- Preparation and lodgement of required documentation, submissions and objections.
- Preparation of EIS', REF's, SEE's and planning proposals as required.
- Stakeholder management including liaising with and providing advice to clients', project managers, engineers and council members in relation to development applications.

What you'll need to succeed

- You must have a relevant tertiary qualification in the environmental or planning space as well as ongoing NSW industry experience. This includes a minimum of 3-5 years in a senior level position.

- A clear understanding of the Environmental Planning Assessment Act 1979.
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills.

What you'll get in return

- Opportunity to work for a successful consultancy with lots of project variety
- Flexibility regarding days worked and remote options available
- Close knit team environment and hardworking company culture
- Competitive salary as well as bonus and progression opportunities
