Full job description

Your new company

This well-known mining company in Far North Queensland is seeking experienced Chefs to join their team. Working on a casual FIFO roster you will be involved in the upcoming site expansion.

Your new role

Are you an enthusiastic Chef who works well independently and in a team environment? This is the role for you.

Reporting to the Head Chef and Site Services Manager you will be responsible for working on a casual basis with the opportunity for a 2/2 roster. Your duties will include but are not limited to:

- Providing fast, effective service with a friendly disposition in open kitchens.
- Adhering to legislated food hygiene and general safety practises.
- Assistance with stock ordering and ability to understand and control food costs and wastage.
- Bulk cooking style catering for high volumes of workers across a variety of meal styles.

What you'll need to succeed

To be successful in this role it is essential you are a fully qualified Chef holding your Certificate III in Commercial Cookery or similar. Have a current Responsible Service of Alcohol certificate and can work long hours across split shifts, available at short notice and over the weekends. Previous experience in a high-volume bulk style kitchen is ideal but not essential. You must be willing to obtain a National Criminal History Check, pre-employment medical, ongoing drug and alcohol testing and complete all pre-employment mine site inductions.

What you'll get in return

In return you will be awarded with a generous hourly rate, weekly pay, experience working for an industry leader, accommodation, great site facilities and travel based out of Cairns, Queensland.
